Take a Chance

There's nothing all that mysterious about matchmaking, really. It is simply a process of bringing together two sincere, compatible people. Of course, the devil is in the details, and that's where Jane Carstens, matchmaker and managing partner of Hearts, comes in. Using a personal, one-on-one approach, she matches clients with like-minded partners, people who want to meet someone special. Romantics might believe meeting a soulmate is up to fate; Hearts Introduction Services helps give fate a little push.

Personal and Private

Carstens has been a professional matchmaker for over 25 years and opened the Western Canada branch of Hearts in Vancouver in 2001. She also travels regularly to Victoria and Calgary to meet clients – she personally interviews every client in their homes. The interview is relaxed, yet extensive, covering everything from lifestyle and background to goals and preferences in a partner. Carstens hand-picks suitable matches for her clients, who can rest assured that everyone they meet has been pre-screened and prequalified. But once a match is made, it's up to them to provide the chemistry.

Mix and Match

Clients of Hearts are encouraged to relax, take their time, and enjoy dating. Clients pay a lifetime membership fee to join, plus a nominal monthly administrative fee, which includes unlimited matches for as long as the client wishes. Carstens gathers ongoing feedback from her clients to refine and hone in on what they are looking for. For a more intensive search, Hearts also offers Private Executive Search, which can involve placing advertising in prominent media. Carstens prepares the ad, screens respondents, and prepares a dossier of responses for the client, who can then choose who they'd like to meet. However clients choose to meet their matches, Hearts is there to help them be successful in love.
